Time tracker not only captures the log-in and log-out time of the employee but also tracks the task done in between that time. Thus enabling you to prioritize your work and utilize your time in a better way leading towards an increase in overall productivity.

Expense management

We still follow a traditional approach of manually creating and maintaining expense vouchers and then sending it for approval. This involves a lot of paperwork, difficulty in tracking and even the approval process gets delayed.

Leave management

Leave management is made simpler in time tracker; you need not maintain any leave cards or request leave via mail.

With time tracker, leave management is made systematic and simplified by capturing leave details right from request to approval. You can know the status of a leave request at any point of time whether it is approved/rejected by your reporting manager or it is still pending for approval. Even managers can manage the task better as they are aware of the planned leaves of their employees.

Thus time tracker gives you the advantage of maintaining everything under one roof such as employee time-in/time-out, leave management and expense details.
